

In our fantasy the light is...

Life and love emerge.

Where Horizons Meet

*Beyond horizons is where night turns into dawn.
There we dream of a future, it's there we are born.
Our past may haunt us, making us afraid of the dark.
In our fantasy the light is, it's there we can find a spark.*

*The child will guide us to where we need to go.
Deep within we can feel it, we don't have to know.
Where horizons meet is where past and future merge.
It's there beyond, within us, where life and love emerge.*

*Looking back you see the future as from the other side;
Trust the child within you and you will never need to hide.*